Real Estate Deal Largest in Years Recently Closed

Dickinson, May 29.—One of the largest deals in down town real estate in years was closed Thursday when the Laidie Vrana purchased from L. A. Simpson and W. F. Burnett the corner known as the old Messersmith property on Sim Street and First Street West, a portion of which is now occupied by Mr. Vrana as a vacuuming shop.

Buildings on the property include the one occupied by Mr. Vrana and large additions which house the Lenhardt Shoe Hospital, the Miklautsch Tailor Shop and that formerly occupied by the Young Jewelry store.

When the work is completed the jewelry store will occupy the space now taken up by the garage while the quarters formerly occupied by the Young store will be transformed into rooms where a women's exchange is to be conducted.

Mr. Vrana, the new owner of the property, has acquired one of the oldest and most valuable corners in the city. He has been engaged in the vacuuming and tire business on that location for the past three years and has been prospering in a marked degree.

Poultrymen of Bottineau Co. To Gather For Picnic

Bottineau, N. D., May 29.—The first poultrymen's picnic to be held in North Dakota will be put on by members of the Bottineau County Poultry association at the state game farm near here on June 5.

Part of the program of the afternoon will consist of a poultry culling demonstration. An address will be given by Professor O. A. Barton of the Agricultural college.

Fifty farms in Bottineau county have been designated as demonstration farms and the owners have agreed to keep accurate records on their poultry.

GOPHER SENATE FREE-FOR-ALL DRAWS DOZEN

Galaxy of Candidates to Get Start in Primary as Filing Time Ends

NEW FARMER-LABOR

Third Enters That Party Primary-Democrats May Contest Legality of Race

St. Paul, May 29.—The tenth candidate to enter formally in the race for the United States senatorship from Minnesota filed on the Republican ticket with the Secretary of State today. He is John J. Martin, a Minneapolis attorney. Officials at the capitol were unable to identify him.

Former Governor J. A. A.
Burnquist also filed on the Republican ticket today. He had previously announced his candidacy.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—More than a dozen candidates for the United States senatorship from Minnesota are expected to be in the running in the June 18 primary when the filing time limit expires at 5 p. m. today.

Nine candidates already have filed and several others have announced their intention of doing so.

The three Farmer-Labor candidates and six Republicans were on the filing list this morning. The former list carries Landburgh, former Congressman; Maurice Johnson, candidate for Governor at the last election, and Dr. L. A. Fritzsche, mayor of New Ulm.

The Republicans are Oscar Hal-lam, until recently justice of the state supreme court; Governor J. A.
O. Pruss, Ernest Lundeen, former Congressman; and William J. Anderson; Victor Power, mayor of Hibbing; and Congressman Thomas
C. Schall.

Two More To File
In addition J. A. A. Burnquist, former Governor, and Halvor Steenerson, both Republicans, have announced that they would file today.

Whether the Democrats would have a man in the field at the primary when candidates will be nominated for the July 16 election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Knute
Nelson was not certain today. State Senator James A. Carley of Plainview has been endorsed by the Democratic state central committee but has not yet filed. It was rumored that Mrs.
Anna Dickey Olsen of Cloquet, who was the Democratic candidate for election last summer and A. C.
Weiss, retired publisher of Duluth, also would be last-minute Democratic filers.

May Attack Legality
Prominent Democrats, it was said, were considering the testing of the legality of the primary and special election. According to the report suit may be started in one of the counties to halt the election machinery on the ground that the election is illegal and depriving the voter before the state supreme court at once.

The Democrats contend that the burden of expense for the election would be objected to by the taxpayers.

There is no right of appeal from a decision of the workmen's compensation bureau denying the matter before the state supreme court at once.

Berlin, May 29.—Although the government of Saxony denies that any disorders have occurred in Dresden the newspapers at Berlin today publish dispatches depicting the situation in Dresden as serious, owing to the marching and demonstrating crowd attempted to storm the Dresden police station headquarters last evening and several persons were killed or injured.

PROPOSE JOINT POLICING
Essen, May 29.—The Burgomaster of Essen began negotiations with the Communists and representatives of the workers for the formation of a workers' police force to assist the freedom of this city. When the national colors are passing on parade to that reached at Gelsenkirchen.
A Communist committee of control is apparently gaining the upper hand here, having little difficulty in forcing shop keepers to keep prices down to the mark dictated by the committee.

The French authorities at Duess-eldorf issued an official denial today of reports that French had supplied firearms and workers of Bochum with firearms.

HALF MILLION OUT
Gelsenkirchen, May 29.—A mass meeting of 10,000 striking miners in this district has been called for this afternoon to consider an offer from the industrialists to end the strike.
It was indicated in advance, however, that some proposals would be overwhelmingly rejected, the strikers being more determined than ever to hold out for their whole demands.

It was estimated by a union official today that 300,000 miners now are on strike in the Ruhr out of a total of 510,000. In addition there are 160,000 repairmen and helpers striking as well as 70,000 metal workers, making a total of strikers more than a half million.

The Gelsenkirchen district still is the scene of much disturbance.
Strikers have been making the rounds of a number of mines to see that nobody stays on the job. In one instance a number of substitute workers were compelled to march in the ranks of the visitors through the Communist center where the non-workers feared the strikers.

Real Estate Deal Largest in Years Recently Closed

Dickinson, May 29.—One of the largest deals in down town real estate in years was closed Thursday when Laurie Vrana purchased from L. A. Simpson and W. F. Burnett the corner known as the old Messersmith property on Sims Street and First Street West, a portion of which is now occupied by Mr. Vrana as a vulcanizing shop.

Buildings on the property include the one occupied by Mr. Vrana and the additions which house the Lenhardt Shoe Hospital, the Miklautsch Tailor Shop and that formerly occupied by the Young Jewelry store.

When the work is completed the jewelry store will occupy the space now taken up by the garage while the quarters formerly occupied by the Young store will be transformed into rooms where a women's exchange is to be conducted.

Mr. Vrana, the new owner of the property, has acquired one of the oldest and most valuable corners in the city. He has been engaged in the vulcanizing and tire business on that location for the past three years and has been prospering in a marked degree.

Fifty farms in Bottineau county have been designated as demonstration farms and the owners have agreed to keep accurate records on their poultry.

Business men of Hazelton desired their own paper, and the first issue indicates they intend to support the Independent.

BUSINESS MAN TO GET STAR

C. Henry Hollist First of Several to be Special Policemen

C. Henry Hollist, one of the best known traveling men with Bismarck as headquarters, has joined the local police force. He won't wear a uniform, won't carry firearms or a billy, and probably won't wear a star, at least where it will be readily seen. But he is a full fledged special policeman.

Mr. Hollist's special duty is with relation to enforcement of the traffic ordinances and laws. He was asked to accept a commission as a special policeman with duties pertaining to traffic laws only—without interference with his regular business, of course—and Chief of Police Martinson says that several other well known business men of the city will be asked to accept special police powers to aid in enforcing the traffic laws.

Third Enters That Party Pri-
mary-Democrats May Con-
test Legality of Race

St. Paul, May 29.—The tenth candidate to enter formally in the race for the United States senatorship from Minnesota filed on the Republican ticket with the Secretary of State today. He is John J. Martin, a Minneapolis attorney. Officials at the capitol were unable to identify him.

Former Governor J. A. A. Burnquist also filed on the Republican ticket today. He had previously announced his candidacy.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—More than a dozen candidates for the United States senatorship from Minnesota are expected to be in the running in the June 18 primary when the filing time limit expires at 5 p. m. today. Nine candidates already have filed and several others are expected to do so.

The three Farmer-Labor candidates and six Republicans were on the filing list this morning. The former are: Charles Lundberg, former Congressman; Magnus Johnson, candidate for Governor at the last election; and Dr. L. A. Fritzsche, mayor of New Ulm.

The Republicans are Oscar Hallam, until recently justice of the state supreme court; Governor J. A. O. Preus, Ernest Lundeen, former Congressman; Congressman Sydney Anderson; Victor Power, mayor of Hibbing; and Congressman Thomas C. Schall.

Two More To File
In addition J. A. A. Burnquist, former Governor, and Halvor Steenerson, both Republicans, have announced that they would file today.

Whether the Democrats will have a man in the field at the primary when candidates will be nominated for the July 16 election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Knute Nelson was not certain today. State Senator James A. Carley of Plainview has been endorsed by the Democratic state central committee but has not yet filed. It was rumored that Mrs. Anna Dickey Olesen of Cloquet, who was the Democratic candidate for election last summer and A. C. Weiss, retired publisher of Duluth, also would be last-minute Democratic filers.

NO APPEAL FROM AWARD

Workmen's Compensation Bureau Decision Held Final

There is no right of appeal from a decision of the workmen's compensation bureau denying further compensation to a claimant who has previously received an award and payments for his injury, is the decision of Judge Johnston of district court in the case against the bureau by Majorie Brunelle.

The effect of the opinion, according to Phillip Elliott, member of the bureau who acted as the bureau's attorney, is to make the bureau's findings final on questions of the extent and continuance of the disability from an injury. In this case, Mr. Brunelle injured his foot while working on the Missouri river bridge here. He received $879.91 compensation and $127.00 for medical aid and hospital care, and the board denied further compensation on the ground that its award was fair and complete. The law, Mr. Elliott said, permits an appeal to the courts when any compensation is granted, but the bureau contended there was no appeal when an award had been made.

BOYS TO HAVE OUTING

Carrington, N. D., May 29.—Carrington Masons will give the boys of the town a taste of camp life this summer. Berlin, May 29.—Although the government of Saxony denies that any disorders have occurred in Dresden the newspapers at Berlin today publish dispatches depicting the situation in Dresden as serious, owing to distress among the unemployed who are marching and demonstrating through the city. PROPOSE JOINT POLICING

Essen, May 29.—The Burgomaster of Essen began negotiations with the Communists and representatives of the workers for the formation of a workers' police force to assist the firemen under an arrangement similar to that reached at Gelsenkirchen.

A Communist committee of control is apparently gaining the upper hand here, having little difficulty in forcing shop keepers to keep prices down to the mark dictated by the committee.

The French authorities at Duesseldorf issued an official denial today of reports that French had supplied firemen and workers of Bochum with firearms.

HALF MILLION OUT

A mass meeting of 10,000 striking miners in this district has been called for this afternoon to consider an offer from the industrialists to end the strike. It was indicated in advance, however, that some proposals would be overwhelmingly rejected, the strikers being more determined than ever to hold out for their whole demands.

It was estimated by a union official today that 300,000 miners now are on strike in the Ruhr out of a total of 510,000. In addition there are 160,000 repairmen and helpers striking as well as 70,000 metal workers, making a total of strikers more than a half million.

The Gelsenkirchen district still is the scene of much disturbance. Strikers have been making the rounds of a number of mines to see that nobody stays on the job. In one instance a number of substitute workers were compelled to march in the ranks of the visitors through the Communist center where the non-workers jeered the strikers.

Williams and his son are in a hospital here.

"Hallowed tombs of our dead lie in the poppy covered fields of Flanders," Commander Owsley said in his proclamation. "We, their comrades of the American Legion, shall not forget their deeds."

"On the annual return of Memorial day in devotion and reverence we turn to consecrate the resting place of these our hero dead. We must hush to the splendor of the sacrifice, the heroism of their lives, the glory of their belief in America and our institutions."

HOLD HEARING ON PROPOSED SOO CHANGES

Arguments For and Against Proposed Mixed Train Service are Presented

HOSPITAL HEAD THERE

Hearing was held today before the state railroad commission, with commissioner Fay Harding presiding, on the petition of the Soo line to substitute during summer months a mixed train service for the south Soo passenger train service.

Supt. S. W. Derrick and G. F. Dulam, attorney for the road, appeared before the commission. Mr. Derrick explained that a marked saving would be effected during the summer months when passenger travel is light by substituting a mixed train service. He also said benefit would accrue to towns on the south Soo because they would get daily freight service, and would save because they could use freight instead of express.

Mr. Derrick presented petitions approving the change, to counter petitions from several towns against the proposed change. His petitioners were from Wishek, Burnstad, Kintyre, Napoleon and Bradstock.

Supt. Schneider of the Bismarck hospital was on the witness stand in opposition to the proposed change. He read a list showing many patients come to the hospital from towns on the South Soo, and also from South Dakota towns, making connection with the South Soo. He said that out of 35 patients 10 were operated on the night they arrived, and that, in his opinion, delay incident to riding on a mixed train and also riding night would prove dangerous to patients seriously ill.

D. H. Houser, merchant of Napoleon, objected strenuously to the change, enumerating his reasons. He said it would slow mail service from South Soo towns to the Twin Cities; it was not fair to citizens who had paid the high freight rates; that merchants would not be benefited by daily freight service through a mixed train; that in case of sickness it might mean much to a patient to be able to get to a hospital in Bismarck on a passenger train; that there would be no saving worth speaking about in substituting freight for express.

He said he understood grain shipments in the last year from Napoleon amounted to about $700,000 and understood cream shipments averaged $250,000 to $300,000 a year. A. B. Atkins, Napoleon, who was joined Mr. Schneider and Mr. Houser, Chris Olson said that he did not believe the counter-petitions meant much, as it was easy to get signatures to any kind of petition.

A number of Bismarck merchants who oppose the change were present.

The railroad commission took the matter under advisement.

16 FIRMS IN COMPETITION FOR BUILDING

City Commissioners Express
Satisfaction Over Stiff Competition in Bids

BEING CONSIDERED

Several of Bids Run Under Estimate of Cost Made by The City Engineer

Late today the city engineer announced the low bidders on the four of seven contracts for building a water works system are:

Contract No. 1—American Cast Iron Pipe Co., Minneapolis.
Contract No. 2—De Graff-Wolf Co., Minneapolis.
Contract No. 3—Wodrich Construction Co., Minneapolis.
Contract No. 4—Frank Grambs, Bismarck.

Low bidder on three other contracts will not be announced until alternate proposals have been considered.

The lowest combinations of bids on the seven contracts for construction of a new water works system in Bismarck are unofficially $4,401.25 less than the estimated cost of the construction of the plant made by City Engineer T. R. Atkinson.

This was announced by engineers this afternoon after several hours work tabulating and calculating the hundreds of items involved in the bidding.

The fact that the bids were close to the estimate of the city engineer, and slightly under it, gave a great deal of satisfaction to members of the city commission.

The combination of lowest bidders as calculated by engineers was $550,189.51. The estimate was $660,680.76. To this, in the construction of a new plant, would be added $6,247.65 for engineering and similar cost, according to the estimate.

There were 16 bids submitted to the commission last night, the bidding being spirited. The commission meets late this afternoon to officially inform the contractors of the result of the engineers' calculations given above.

Lowest Bids

The lowest bids, with names omitted by request of engineers pending a rechecking and announcement officially, follow: Contract No. 1, main and distribution system supply, $250,061.47; contract No. 2, installation of mains and distribution system, $173,150.80; contract No. 3, complete filtration plant, $108,292.25; contract No. 4, installation of heating system in filtration plant building, $7,292; contract No. 5, installation of filters, etc., $25,075; contract No. 6, installation of pumping machinery, $4,438; contract No. 7, construction two concrete reservoirs, $4,793.10.

On one contract the bids were slightly higher than the estimate because of an increase in cast iron pipe prices since the estimates were made.

There were 16 bidders, all but one of whom had representatives present. A large number to the Bismarck Bank gave financial endorsement to another bidder, but no bids were presented. Some of the bidders sought three or more of the seven contracts.

Because the bids were not tooed except in few cases, it was necessary for the city engineer and P. Wolf, consulting engineer to figure out the total of each bid from unit prices. They were able to determine the low combination of bids this afternoon.

The Bidders

The bidders were: U. S. Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Co., Minneapolis; Remmler Valve Co., Chicago; J. B. Low and Son, Chicago; Waterloo Fire Engine Co., St. Paul; Minnesota Construction Co., Minneapolis; Wodrich Construction Co., Minneapolis; DeGraff, Wolf and Co., St. Paul; Haggart Construction Co., Fargo; Phelps-Drake Co., Hibbing; Minn.; F. G. Grambs, Bismarck; W. C. Fraser and Son, St. Paul; Campbell Construction Co., Minneapolis; Fairbanks, Morse & Co.; McFarland Engineering Co., Kansas City, Mo.; E. T. Hildred Co., Minneapolis; R. B. Whitaker and Co., St. Paul; E. W. Bachrach, Kansas City, Mo.

Various times of deliveries were specified by some bidders while others specified no time. The U. S. Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Co., Minneapolis, in their bids said that due to present conditions of cast iron price market, bidding did not include the penalty clause on delivery. Shipments of 10 and 8 inch pipe was promised in July and August and 6-inch pipe in September. The bid was for cash, 30 days net.

The most spirited bidding was on contract No. 2, which included the laying of a system of mains. The Wodrich Construction Co., DeGraff, Wolf & Co., St. Paul; Haggart Construction Co., Fargo; Phelps-Drake Co., Hibbing, Minn.; F. G. Grambs, Bismarck, and W. C. Fraser & Son, St. Paul, all submitted bids on this contract. (Continued on Page 6)

FATHER HELD FOR KIDNAPING HIS OWN SON

Minor Man Arrested at Valley City After Taking Boy From Casselton

Fargo, May 28.—Charged with kidnapping his own 7-year-old son placed in custody of his grandfather at Casselton, H. E. Hilborn of Minot was arrested yesterday at Valley City on a warrant sworn out by the child's grandfather, Herman Nessmeyer, according to the sheriff's office here.

It is reported that Hilborn went to Nessmeyer Sunday demanding possession of his three children. His request was refused. Hilborn is said then to have gone to the home of George McIntyre, west of Casselton, where he found his son, Clarence.

Man and boy were apprehended at Valley City where they were awaiting a train for Minot. The child was returned to the grandfather while Hilborn will be returned to Fargo to await further action in the matter, the sheriff's office reported.

Sometime ago the district awarded Nessmeyer custody of Hilborn's three children following his failure to care for them properly.

1,000 YEAR OLD WHALE IS TAKEN CAPTIVE

A close-up view of a monster 90-ton "hull" whale which was sighted by Columbus in 1492 on his voyage of discovery, does that give you a thrill? That probably sounds just a trifle far fetched. However, that is exactly what you may witness in the Elmer Clifton production "Down to the Sea in Ships," which comes to the auditorium theater on May 30.

There is no question about your seeing the 90-ton "hull" whale, as in this thrilling photodrama, a close-up view is to be had of one of these leviathans of the deep in a death battle with the crew of the "Charles W. Morgan." Every detail of a thrilling battle, in which the enraged mammoth finally turns on the boat, smashes it to kindling wood, and hurls the occupants into the shark infested waters is graphically shown before the astounded eyes of the audience.

As to Columbus seeing this same whale, there may be some doubt. However, it is estimated that his mammoth of the sea, which measured 80 feet in length and weighed more than 90 tons, was over one thousand years old. It is, therefore, very possible that Columbus, en route for America on his sailing bark, may have sighted this self-same whale. Can you imagine sitting in your comfortable seat in your favorite motion picture theater and gazing on a whale that lived one thousand years ago?

Troubles Over, States Popular Hotel Man

"My friends all say I look better than I have in years, and I certainly do feel the part, too," recently said Geo. L. Burke, popular day clerk at the Portland Hotel, 655 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., and a former resident of Youngstown, O., in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"Before taking Tanlac I had no appetite, and for two years had been almost a chronic sufferer from indigestion. Rheumatism, knife-like pains in my back, headaches, dizzy spells and frayed nerves also added to my misery. I was losing weight, and had to strain every nerve and muscle to keep going."

"Well, Tanlac did away with all my troubles, added fifteen pounds to my weight, and put me in the pink of condition. I can't say enough for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Babies Strike For Twenty Hour Day Better Food and No Kissing Aided By American Child Health Association

We are the Kings of Babyville; the Chieftain Big Babies of Babyland, the Supreme Snappers of the Country of Cribbs.

This is our royal edict to the babies of the nation. Let's all be husky! That's what got us where we are. In order to be strong and healthy, let's organize! Let's form the Babies' Union of the United States.

We are the hope of the future, the force of the present. All we have to do is to make up our minds what we want. We've got people where we want them. We could keep the nation awake, if we should all unite and cry at once!

Let's hope we won't have to strike for, if we do it will go hard with grown-ups. We'll strike for something worth while. We'll strike for longer hours of sleep—say 20 hours a day. No compromise. Unconditional surrender! We won't stay up late to entertain company—let them stay at home, for all we care! If we strike, we'll strike for better food. How can they expect us to be leaders of the race if they don't give us what we ought to have to eat? Mother's milk is best, as all babies know, and when we can't get that, we insist upon pure cow's milk, according to the doctor's modification, in clean boiled bottles. But we aren't like those old-fashioned babies, who lived on nothing but milk. As we get really grown-up, say nine months old, we need orange juice, and beef broth, and vegetables, and things. Ask the doctor.

We'd like to strike against kissing, too. We can't be giants on germs. If folks must kiss us—and personally we don't see the necessity—we prefer to be kissed on the back of our necks, or behind our left ears.

That organization they call the American Child Health Association seems to us babies to have the right idea. Herbert Hoover—babies all over the world know him—is the president. And he says a lot when he talks about the Babies Bill of Rights. Here it is:

There should be no child in America who is not born under proper conditions; Does not live in hygienic surroundings; Ever suffers from malnutrition; Does not have prompt and efficient medical inspection and attention; Does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and health.

The Babies' Union will subscribe to every word of that. This edict is just to let Mr. Hoover know that the babies are backing him. If any grown-up feels the same way and wants to join the American Child Health Association, he can get in touch with it through the treasurer, Corcoran Thom, at the National Headquarters, 532 Seventeenth Street, Washington, D. C.

Come on, babies! Join—hurry! Let's all crawl together toward our goal—perfect health!

CO-OPERATIVE FARM MARKETING NOTES

Department of Agriculture Plans to Study Scientific Distribution Equally With Production.

More attention must be given to the future of the economics of agriculture and to better marketing methods, without lessening efforts to promote efficient production, it is declared by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, in a contribution to the Banker-Farmer, the bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission. Under the direction of D. H. Otis, the commission is giving particular attention to co-operative farm marketing.

"When land was advancing rapidly in value the farmer could afford to take some of his profit in the increased value of his land," says Secretary Wallace. "We are past the period of advancing land values, and, if agriculture is to be maintained, it must be on a basis which will yield a fair profit one year with another. So I have been studying the department with a view to strengthening our economic work."

"We have gotten into the habit of looking upon agricultural production as a sacred obligation, and so it is in one sense; but it is no more sacred or binding than the obligation to market crops without waste. If we do not do that we might as well not produce them," says Mr. Wallace.

He adds: "It is the purpose of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics to inquire into everything which affects marketing and price, with the thought that we must serve the agriculture of the nation as thoroughly on the economic side as we have served it in the past on the productive side. As to working our way out of the depression, the first responsibility rests upon the individual farmer. If he is to get help he must help himself, both as an individual and by joining with other individuals in co-operative efforts. The Government is under obligation to clear away any obstacles which do not give to the farmers, individually and collectively, a fair chance to help themselves. The farmer is entitled to exactly the same rights and the same opportunities that are enjoyed by other citizens. He is entitled to a square deal."

"It is not the obligation of the Government to give the farmer any privileges not given to others," Mr. Wallace continues. "If I understand the minds of the farmers of the United States, they are not asking for special privileges. All they are asking is that they may be assured of equal opportunities, of open and competitive markets, and the right to organize and market their products collectively, and to have the same access to the nation's money pool as other people have. Farmers can meet together, pass resolutions, make speeches, and go home feeling better for a time; but this sort of thing alone will not get them very far. The time has come when the farmers must themselves organize agriculture in a thoroughly businesslike way; adjust their production to the needs of consumption; stabilize their products and market them efficiently; study conditions agriculturally and industrially which influence the demand for, and consumption of their crops; get a better understanding of the administration of the credit machinery; and employ trained men to do for them what they can not do for themselves."

That is to say, in substance, that agriculture must be put on a par in efficiency of method with other Big Business.

It has been pointed out by the United States Department of Agriculture that inefficient business and poor management are the outstanding reasons for the failure of many farmers' co-operative associations. Lack of capital, liberal extension of credit and dishonest management are the minor causes for the failure of 243 farmers' buying and selling associations since 1913. At the same time it was learned that out of 70 co-operative creameries, their average length of existence was a little over seven and one-half years.

The State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association is now compiling facts of successful co-operatives of all kinds and in all parts of the country, with the idea of building up a body of sound method and experience to serve as a trustworthy guide in the further development of the co-operative farm marketing movement.

TRAVELS FAR ON THIN DIME

These girls, who work in the office of a factory in a lonely section of Philadelphia, Pa., spend their noon hour at rifle practice. That keeps them out in the air, gives them ruddy cheeks and an appetite—and prepares them for any possible bandit attack.

Little James Chester Nalin, 6, Tiptonville, Tenn., smiled during his trip to Chicago, for wasn't he going to the big doctors who are going to straighten his limbs? He had a ticket and a dime when he started out alone. Passengers raised it to $10. James will be the first subject for surgeons in a new operation.

Bismarck Appears in Tourists' Guide

Detailed information about the camping facilities offered by Bismarck is contained in a copy of "Camp Site Guide" gotten out by the United States Touring Information Bureau, Inc., of Waterloo, Ia.

A copy of the Guide has been received by the Tribune as a result of sending in the information for the book.

The Guide is one of the best of its kind. It contains a large map of the United States. The directory is substantially bound in cloth, is compact, and its contents include general information for tourists, description of approximately 2,000 camp sites, location of fishing and hunting grounds, notes on places of scenic and historical interest, and description of 3,000 improved and unimproved aeroplane landing fields.

The map, which folds into a manila map pocket on the inside of the guide is a combination of highway and railroad map. On one side of the map is shown practically every principal road and highway in the United States with hard surfaces sections, location of all camp sites and key to highway markers. On the other side of the map sheet is shown railroads and the location of improved and unimproved aeroplane landing fields. The guide retails for $1.

Build to Endure with Certain-teed

Selecting the right roof for the right building is made easy by the Certain-teed policy of standardized quality for each and every purpose. The owner of a barn or silo in the South and West is assured of a non-drying and spark-resisting roof, which is a prime essential to him. The northern farmer can depend on its unfailing resistance to the attacks of rain and snow. From coast to coast and from border to border the dependable quality of Certain-teed roofing on millions of buildings is proven by every test of time and weather.

Again in Custody After Being Given Children By Court

Fargo, May 29.—Armed with an order from Judge Lowe of the Ward County giving him custody of his three children H. F. Hilborn of Minot arrested Sunday at Valley City.

A Beautiful Complexion & Admiration

Ladies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clean up the skin than all the beauty treatments in creation. An imperfect complexion is caused by a sluggish liver. Millions of people, old, young and middle-aged, take them for Blemishes, Acne, Eruptions, Skin Itch, Headache, Dizziness, Stomach and Bowel Trouble, Pimples and Bloated Skin. They end the misery of Constipation. Small Box—Small Dose—Small Price.

on a charge of taking his minor son Clayton from the custody of his grand-father and guardian Herman Nitemeyer of Casselton convinced the court on arraignment here today on his right to possession of his children and was released.

After conducting his children to a restaurant Hilborn is said by police to have mistreated one of his sons and was said to be again under detention.

Pending further investigation of the case the three children were placed in the custody of the juvenile court commission.

Hilborn came to the home of Nitemeyer Sunday from Minot and demanded possession of his children. The request was refused.

Hilborn is said to have gone to another farm west of Casselton and obtained possession of Clayton, his 7 year old son, with whom he went to Valley City where he was arrested. Some time ago a court ordered the children into the custody of their grandfather after a showing that the father was an improper person to care for them.

The Nation United

--Forever

MEMORIAL DAY is the day when every man, woman and child pays tribute to the nation's martyrs.

Once more we bow in respectful silence and pause while we issue a prayer for those who gave up their lives sixty or more years ago that this nation "shall not perish from this earth." North and South join hands in this devotion. The bonds of friendship have grown stronger with the passing years until today this great nation points with pride to its enviable position — as leader in every great movement for peace and happiness upon this earth.

Forest Fire Menace Continues

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—A serious fire menace still exists in the north Minnesota woods according to W. C. Cox, state forester, but all reports received today indicated that the flames were well under control and there is no immediate danger of spreading unless high winds rise. A smothering rain is necessary until all the 100 fires which are now burning between Duluth and Leech Lake and in the cut over-land will be under control.

Dr. Cox warned all tourists, fishermen, and campers in the woods to be careful of fire and said if the situation became worse, it might be necessary for him to order those people out of the woods, until the danger is past.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
 (Established 1873)

AN IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENT
 The action of the state legislature last winter in making an emergency appropriation to permit installation of a new type of stoker at the Agricultural College has proved real economy for the state, and there is evidence that it may be a milestone in the development of the lignite industry of North Dakota.

In the past scientific men have spent most of their energies in the problem of lignite, in developing an economical method of briquetting and extracting by-products. Doubtless this will come in the future, for Germany bases almost her whole industrial activity in the great Ruhr region which occupies so much space in the press, on coal similar to lignite and declared by many scientists to be inferior.

But the plenitude of lignite makes the development of an apparatus which will permit use of the coal in natural state at a great saving of immediate and great importance. If the claims of experts of the development of an efficiency with lignite at the Agricultural College greater than that developed by use of eastern coals and at a saving of one-third, are true, and there is every reason to believe that they are, scores of industrial firms in eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota would profit by abandoning use of Illinois coal for North Dakota lignite. This alone ought to double production of lignite in North Dakota.

AFTER THEY DIE
 Speaking of Abraham Lincoln, one of the leading New York newspapers said editorially in its issue of May 19, 1860: "The Republican convention at Chicago has nominated Abraham Lincoln of Illinois for President of the United States—a third-rate Western lawyer, poorer than poor Pierce. The conduct of the Republican party in this matter is a remarkable indication of a small intellect growing smaller. They passed over Seward, Chase and Banks, who are statesmen and able men, and they take a fourth-rate lecturer who cannot speak good grammar and who, to raise the wind, delivers his hackneyed, illiterate compositions at $200 a piece. Our readers will recollect that this peripatetic politician visited New York two or three months ago on his financial tour, when, in return for the most unmitigated trash, interlarded with coarse and clumsy jokes, filled his empty pockets with dollars coined out of republican fanaticism."

Five days later a leading Philadelphia newspaper said, of Lincoln: "There is not in all the history of his life any exhibition of intellectual ability and attainment fitting him for the high and responsible post for which he has been nominated. His coarse language, his illiterate style and his vulgar and vituperative personality in debate contrast very strongly with the elegance and classical oratory of the eminent senator from New York."

In wilder moments some of the leading papers and political haranguers called Lincoln a "freak," a "baboon who had escaped from the morasses of Illinois," a "vulgar clown" and a "low-bred village politician."

Lincoln, when he ran for the presidency, stood about as much ridicule and unmerited slander as any political candidate in our history. However, he looms greater and greater with the passing of the years. His greatness lives on while most of the newspapers that vituperated him have died of dry rot.

You contrast Lincoln's standing in history with the things they said about him when he was alive. There never was a better illustration that the importance and historical worth of a man cannot be judged by the generation in which he lives.

It takes death and the perspective of time to "place" him properly. Most of the prominent people who rank highly now will be gone and forgotten within half a century. And the ones who survive time's sifting process and emerge truly great will be, in many cases, individuals who are underrated today.

The ultimate position of Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt in history, for instance, will not be known for at least 50 years.

JUST A CRAZE
 The world's tallest lighthouse, lantern 385 feet above the water, will be built as a monument to Christopher Columbus on one of the islands near the American continent.

That strikes American fancy, for we're animated by a craze to do things big—tallest, largest, heaviest. It's a phase all civilizations go through, like Egyptians building pyramids and the Chinese millions toiling to erect the Great Wall.

The speed craze, however, is eclipsing our craze for size. Our civilization is aging fast.

BANDITS
 Emmet Dalton, only survivor of the Dalton gang, says: "What chance has the old-style bandit, who worked with a gun and blackjack—decent and out in the open—with the modern bandit who lurks in the mahogany office and works with the stock dividend and bankruptcy proceedings? We might as well be honest."

The blunder by the Daltons and the James brothers was partly in their method, not their results. They lacked good lawyers.

MUST END SOMETIME
 A Wall Street banker looks up from his adding machine and says the world's supply of paper money was 30 times as much at the end of 1922 as it was a year before. Russia multiplied her banknotes 40 times, Germany 35. Enormous increases since then.

The printing presses will not run forever. Day of reckoning will come. Then the inflaters will have to admit that their money never can return to par, and they'll revise its par value. The French franc will be worth a par of about eight cents.

Husbands and mosquitoes seldom take vacations.

For the love of Mike, the Irish are getting things straight.

China, poor China, she almost has no government to cuss at.

The sad thing about spending vacations is spending money.

Turkey is trying to slip up on Greece again.

Stop listening to idle rumors and give your ears a vacation.

If Henry Ford is running for president, he is going a long way on very little gas.

Stay away from China and give the bandits a vacation.

In ideal business combination is a doctor and a lawyer with their offices near a bootleg joint.

Nothing looks sadder these days than a coal dealer wondering if winter really has gone.

Women wearing knickerbockers indicate trousers are not for men only.

Getting out in the open is fine, but never keep your teeth out in the open too long.

You can't keep a good man or a good weed down.

Quit wearing high collars and give your neck a vacation.

Being snowed under with work doesn't keep a man cool.

Diamonds are beautiful chiefly because you can't get them.

Quit looking at the dresses and give your eyes a vacation.

It is spring, and the farmers are feeling their oats.

Take your voice out to the ball game and let it exercise in the open.

Things could be worse. Just suppose now that you had to lather your lawn before cutting the grass?

Nice thing about spring is it keeps the home fires from burning.

Every day is Decoration Day for people who wear fancy clothes.

And, by the way, campers leave too much trash by the way.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

"Look!" whispered Nancy.

Mister Tatters, the Raggy Man, looked where she was pointing. And Nick looked, and all the little Raggies looked.

And this is what they saw. Crookabone, the gnome, was sneaking toward the roots of a nice big rose bush with a pair of scissors in his hand!

As they were all under the ground, the roots of the rose bush were sticking down like the fingers of a hand.

"Hey, there! What are you doing?" cried Mister Tatters sharply. Crookabone jumped.

"Just getting a little firewood, my friends," he whined. "I'm just out and I need some to boil my sassafras soup for my dinner."

"Then you are going the wrong direction for it," said Mister Tatters sternly. Right about face and march out of here! You know very well you were going to cut the roots of that rose bush for your firewood."

Crookabone hesitated a minute and then suddenly he grabbed a little whistle out of his pocket and blew a shrill blast.

Instantly all the gnomes in Gnome Land came rushing to his aid. They poured in through every underground passage. There was every crooked little gnome you ever heard of. Jigabumb and Tweaknose, and Snip Scissors and Long Tooth and every last one of them. And each one carried something sharp, good for cutting roots.

But almost as quickly came all the little Raggies to help Mister Tatters and Nancy and Nick. Each one of them had their trowels and hoes and digging things, which are fine for fighting with in a pitched battle.

It was soon over for Rag Tag grabbed Jigabumb, Bob Tag grabbed Snip Scissors, Vagabond grabbed Tweaknose, and soon every gnome was a prisoner. But it took Nancy and Nick and Mister Tatters, all three, to catch that rogue Crookabone.

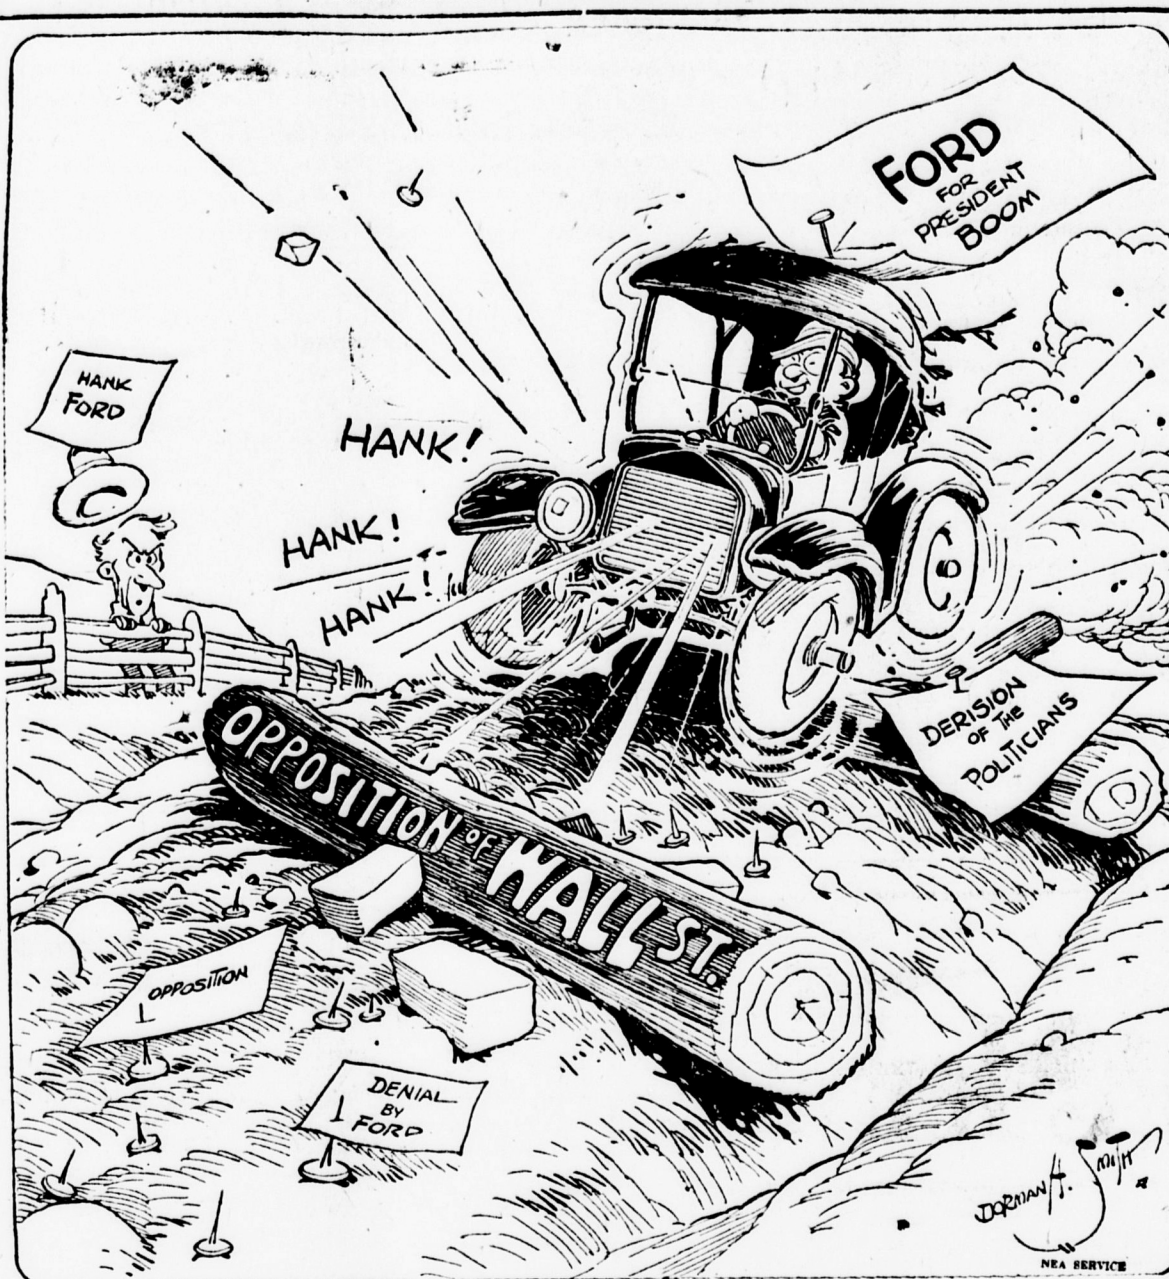

Mrs. Brown will never guess how nearly her flower garden was ruined. (To Be Continued.)

Legion News Letter

ARE AMERICAN MADE

Fargo, N. D., May 29—Jack Williams, Department Adjutant of the American Legion of North Dakota said today: "Reports are current that the poppies now being sold by American Legion posts in this state were 'Made in Germany.' These reports are untrue. The flowers that we are offering for sale to the people of this state, the flower of our organization, the flower that we wear on Memorial Day in sacred memory of our comrades who fell, are AMERICAN MADE FLOWERS."

MANY ORDERS

Fargo, N. D., May 29—Orders for poppies close to one hundred thousand have been received at Headquarters up to the present time. The posts and auxiliaries of the American Legion of North Dakota have more than heartily cooperated with the Department Headquarters in making this sale a success.

$50,000 IN GRAVES FUND

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29—Enlisting the cooperation of civic and patriotic organizations in various communities, members of The American Legion have made substantial progress toward raising the permanent endowment fund to provide for the annual decoration of graves of 32,000 dead in cemeteries of Europe.

Contributions received at the office of the Legion national treasurer in Indianapolis now total more than $35,000, which with the amount raised by Legion men in France raises the sum approximately to $50,000.

One of the largest donations received recently came from the people of Providence, R. I., who sent a check for $1,203.66. The sum was obtained by Providence post of the Legion with the assistance of various community organizations.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29—Wreaths will be set afloat on Memorial Day from naval vessels passing the place where the U. S. S. Ticonderoga was sunk by a German submarine. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt has announced in a letter to Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of The American Legion. A request was made by the Legion for this tribute to the memory of those who lost their lives when German submarines sunk the ships that were to carry them to France during the World War.

Panama, C. Z., May 29—Members of the Forty-second Infantry known as the Porto Rican regiment, have formed a post of The American Legion in Panama. This is the fourth post to be organized in the canal zone. The new post is composed of Porto Ricans who served during the World War, and is located at Camp Gaillard, C. Z., where the regiment is stationed. The organization of the post is said to have resulted from the recent visit to Panama of Legion national officials.

HOME MADE BIPLANE

Carson, N. D., May 29—Lawrence Roberts, local youth, is laughing at those who jeered him, for Orville Wright has flown "that crazy contraption." During the winter built a small biplane and used the engine from a light second hand auto and recently tried flying it for the first time. He rose in the air about eight feet but could go no higher and after making a considerable distance attempted to land. The vehicle dropped in a rut pitching his machine over and breaking one of the wings. Although his plane will require about two weeks at repair work, the boy is not discouraged and insists he will be flying and cutting loops as soon as he gets the engine properly tuned up.

LETTER FROM ALICE HAMILTON TO HER FRIEND, BETTY STOKLEY, IN PARIS

OH MY DEAR BETTY:

I am quite in hopes that I shall be able to persuade dad and mother to let me come over and see you, although I think for the sake of your novel you should be on this side of the Atlantic Ocean at present.

I am sure we are all sitting on a volcano that may blow up any minute. I have told this to Karl Whitney and he said, as he patted my shoulder, "Just sit tight, little girl, and don't try to cross your bridges until you get to them." Isn't he clever?

I have been learning a lot about men since Leslie got married. With what she writes to mother, dad and me about Jack (and what she doesn't write) and what I read between the lines, and what Karl Whitney tells me about himself and some of his friends, I am becoming a regular "woman of the world."

The more I see of Karl the more I can't understand why Leslie refused to marry him. He persuaded mother the other night to let me go with him to a dance at the Country Club and, although I was the youngest girl there, he never left me an instant to talk and flirt with the other women, and it wasn't because he didn't have a chance, either.

But to get back to Leslie's pearls. I can't think of anything else very long, for so many peculiar situations may crop up of which Karl and I did dream when he gave them to me to present to her.

Here is one that has already happened. Jack came near knocking down a man the other night for looking at Leslie more than Jack thought he should. Leslie felt he was looking at her pearls. Of course he was. He probably was a gem expert. Sometimes I think my plan wasn't so bright after all.

Suppose Jack had really knocked the man down; then everything would have had to have been explanations.

I'm scared to death now for fear Leslie will break the string. That would be a calamity.

I can just hear Leslie in her grand ladyish way saying, as those two thousand-dollar-pearls heads roll around on the floor, "Oh, never mind, it is just a string of beads that my sister Alice gave me and it doesn't matter if you don't find them all."

And then, when she takes them to the jeweler to be restrung! Oh my oh my!

If that thing has got to come I hope I shall be in Europe with you. Do you suppose Leslie's having these pearls could be made a cause for divorce? I asked Karl about it the other night and for a little while I think he felt quite uncomfortable.

"I wish, little girl, I had given them to you instead."

I was so happy I threw my arms around his neck and kissed him at the very thought.

He got all red and queer and said, "I think, Miss Alice, it is time for little girls like you to be at home."

I expect to be over there very soon and I'll tell you all the news. Will cable as soon as the family consents to my going.

Lovingly, ALICE.

P. S.—Karl Whitney says he is going to England this summer.

FLOWING GOLD

PRINTED BY ALAN HARTLEY WITH REPRODUCTION BY NEA SERVICE, NEW YORK

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 Calvin Gray, living in Dallas at the most exclusive hotel, is the enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bell Nelson, banker. Gray falls in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. The Briskow family, friends of Gray, have gone to the mountains, where Allie, the daughter, has a tutor and a dancing master. The dancing teacher kisses Allie and, enraged by his advances, she throws the professor from a window. Mrs. Ring, the tutor, resolves to resign. The hotel manager orders the Briskow family from the hotel but Calvin Gray arrives in time to arrange for them to remain.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY
 "Nothing simpler. I merely showed Mr. What's-his-name that he was making an ass of himself. I've spent a fortune here; know the owners, too. Nice chap, that manager, but he has no business running a hotel, and I so informed him." The speaker laid a finger upon his lips; his eyes were dancing. He knocked sharply at the Briskow door and cried, "Baggage ready, ma'am!"

There was a stir from within, the door was slowly opened by a bent, pathetic figure of grief.

"Ma!" Gray cried, and he held out his arms.

Perhaps it was his virile personality radiating confidence, security or perhaps it was Gus Briskow, whatever the fact, Ma Briskow uttered a thin, broken wail, then walked into those open arms and laid her head upon Gray's breast.

"Oh-h-h! We ain't goin' away!" she said. "We ain't goin' away!"

"Of course not. Gus misunderstood. The manager merely wanted you to move into a larger, finer suite, and he is positively distressed at the thought of your leaving. The poor man is dashing about collecting an armful of roses for you and Allie. He wants to come in person and apologize."

There was another sound and Gray looked up to see Allie standing in the doorway to her bedroom; with one hand she clutched the jamb, the other was pressed to her bosom; she was staring at him as at an apparition.

It was several hours later. In the parlor of the new suite, a spacious sunny room, fragrant with flowers and cheerful with brilliant crotonas, Gray and Briskow were talking. Allie and her mother could be seen in their bedrooms putting away the last of their belongings. Gray's eyes had been drawn, at frequent intervals, to the younger woman, for the change in her became the more amazing the more he observed her.

Gray sent the father away on some pretext, finally, then he called to Allie: "Come in here and talk to me. I am a guest and I demand entertainment." He observed with silent approval her carriage as she entered the room and accepted the chair he offered her. Faint trace of the pester's daughter here. "I want a good chance to look at you."

"Now then, do you like Mrs. Ring?"

Allie nodded. "I like her, but I hate her. She makes me feel awful mad because she can't understand that I ain't—I am not mad at her, but at myself. I don't hardly know how to explain it. If I was her I'd hate me, like I do."

"Would you like to have her remain?"

"Oh, I would! She knows everything, and she makes me learn. But she won't stay. I just found out that she's been quitting every few weeks and Pa's been raising her wages. No, the disgrace, and our being thrown out—"

"My dear girl, let me assure you, once for all, there is no suggestion of disgrace about this affair. You have behaved with spirit, and those who have heard about it admire you. I have talked with a number of them and I know. I had a talk with Mrs. Ring also, and she will remain if you wish her to do so. Tell me, what are you going to do this afternoon?"

"I dunno!" Allie looked blank. "I don't do anything but study. I s'pose I got to study."

"Nothing of the sort. You have circles under your eyes now from overwork, and this is your vacation. I am a visitor, a restful visitor; which Gray appeared to be in a situation in which he talked incessantly during the meal, and in a key that kept his companions unconscious of their surroundings. On their way out they passed the entrance to the ballroom and paused to look in. The beat of the music swayed Allie unconsciously; then, before she knew it, Gray's arm was around her waist and he was guiding her out upon the floor.

About midnight Calvin Gray strolled outdoors for a breath of fresh air before retiring. He glowed with the consciousness of a worthy deed well done. He had come to the Notch expecting to spend one night, but events of the last few hours had induced him to change his plans, and now he made up his mind to stay several days.

A THOUGHT

Go to now, ye that say, Today or tomorrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain; whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

—James 4:13, 14.

Heaven makes sport of human affairs, and the present hour-glass, no sure promise of the next—Ovid.

"Perhaps she will tell me, for I foolishness."

"Out with the fairies, I suppose. She won't tell Pa or me where she goes or what she does—says it's all foolishness."

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

AN IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENT

The action of the state legislature last winter in making an emergency appropriation to permit installation of a new type of stoker at the Agricultural College has proved real economy for the state, and there is evidence that it may be a milestone in the development of the lignite industry of North Dakota.

In the past scientific men have spent most of their energies in the problem of lignite, in developing an economical method of briquetting and extracting by-products. Doubtless this will come in the future, for Germany bases almost her whole industrial activity in the great Ruhr region which occupies so much space in the press, on coal similar to lignite and declared by many scientists to be inferior.

But the plentitude of lignite makes the development of an apparatus which will permit use of the coal in natural state at a great saving of immediate and great importance. If the claims of experts of the development of an efficiency with lignite at the Agricultural College greater than that developed by use of eastern coals and at a saving of one-third, are true, and there is every reason to believe that they are, scores of industrial firms in eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota would profit by abandoning use of Illinois coal for North Dakota lignite. This alone ought to double production of lignite in North Dakota.

AFTER THEY DIE

Speaking of Abraham Lincoln, one of the leading New York newspapers said editorially in its issue of May 19, 1860: "The Republican convention at Chicago has nominated Abraham Lincoln of Illinois for President of the United States—a third-rate Western lawyer, poorer than poor Pierce. The conduct of the Republican party in this matter is a remarkable indication of a small intellect growing smaller. They passed over Seward, Chase and Banks, who are statesmen and able men, and they take a fourth-rate lecturer who cannot speak good grammar and who, to raise the wind, delivers his hackneyed, illiterate compositions at $200 apiece. Our readers will recollect that this peripatetic politician visited New York two or three months ago on his financial tour, when, in return for the most unmitigated trash, interlarded with coarse and clumsy jokes, filled his empty pockets with dollars coined out of republican fanaticism."

Five days later a leading Philadelphia newspaper said, of Lincoln: "There is not in all the history of his life any exhibition of intellectual ability and attainment fitting him for the high and responsible post for which he has been nominated. His coarse language, his illiterate style and his vulgar and vituperative personality in debate contrast very strongly with the elegance and classical oratory of the eminent senator from New York."

In wilder moments some of the leading papers and political haranguers called Lincoln a "freak," a "baboon who had escaped from the morasses of Illinois," a "vulgar clown" and a "low-bred village politician."

Lincoln, when he ran for the presidency, stood about as much ridicule and unmerited slander as any political candidate in our history. However, he looms greater and greater with the passing of the years. His greatness lives on while most of the newspapers that vituperated him have died of dry rot.

You contrast Lincoln's standing in history with the things they said about him when he was alive. There never was a better illustration that the importance and historical worth of a man cannot be judged by the generation in which he lives.

It takes death and the perspective of time to "place" him properly. Most of the prominent people who rank highly now will be gone and forgotten within half a century. And the ones who survive time's sifting process and emerge truly great will be, in many cases, individuals who are underrated today.

The ultimate position of Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt in history, for instance, will not be known for at least 50 years.

JUST A CRAZE

The world's tallest lighthouse, lantern 385 feet above the water, will be built as a monument to Christopher Columbus on one of the islands near the American continent.

That strikes American fancy, for we're animated by a craze to do things big—tallest, largest, heaviest. It's a phase all civilizations go through, like Egyptians building pyramids and the Chinese millions toiling to erect the Great Wall.

The speed craze, however, is eclipsing our craze for size. Our civilization is aging fast.

BANDITS

Emmet Dalton, only survivor of the Dalton gang, says: "What chance has the old-style bandit, who worked with a gun and blackjack—decent and out in the open—with the modern bandit who lurks in the mahogany office and works with the stock dividend and bankruptcy proceedings? We might as well be honest."

The blunder with the Daltons and the James brothers was partly in their method, not their results. They lacked good lawyers.

MUST END SOMETIME

A Wall Street banker looks up from his adding machine and says the world's supply of paper money was 30 times as much at the end of 1922 as it was a year before. Russia multiplied her banknotes 40 times, Germany 35. Enormous increases since then.

The printing presses will not run forever. Day of reckoning will come. Then the inflators will have to admit that their money never can return to par, and they'll revise its par value. The French franc will be worth a par of about eight cents.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

"Look!" whispered Nancy. "Mister Tatters, the Raggy Man, looked where she was pointing. And Nick looked, and all the little Raggies looked."

And this is what they saw. Crookabone, the gnome, was sneaking toward the roots of a nice big rose bush with a pair of scissors in his hand.

As they were all under the ground, the roots of the rose bush were sticking down like the fingers of a hand.

"Hey, there! What are you doing?" cried Mister Tatters sharply. Crookabone jumped.

"Just getting a little firewood, my friends," he whined. "I'm just out and I need some to boil my sassafras soup for my dinner."

"Then you are going the wrong direction for it," said Mister Tatters sternly. "Right about face and march out of here! You know very well you were going to cut the roots of that rose bush for your firewood."

Crookabone hesitated a minute and then suddenly before anyone could stop him, he grabbed a little whistle out of his pocket and blew a shrill blast.

Instantly all the gnomes in Gnome Land came rushing to his aid. They poured in through every underground passage. There was every crooked little gnome you ever heard of. J. Gumb and Tweedknee, and Snip Snappers and Long Tooth and every last one of them. And each one carried something sharp, good for cutting roots.

But almost as quickly came all the little Raggies to help Mister Tatters and Nancy and Nick. Each one of them had their trowels and hoes and digging things, which are fine for fighting with in a pitched battle.

It was soon over for Rag Tag grabbed J. Gumb, Bob Tail grabbed Tweedknee, and Vagabond grabbed Snip Snappers, and soon every gnome was a prisoner. But it took Nancy and Nick and Mister Tatters, all three, to catch that rogue Crookabone.

Mrs. Brown will never guess how nearly her flower garden was ruined. (To Be Continued.)

HOME MADE BIPLANE
Carson, N. D., May 29—Lawrence Roberts, local youth, is laughing at those who feared him, for like Orville Wright he has flown "that crazy contraption." Roberts during the winter built a small biplane and used the engine from a light second hand auto and recently tried flying it for the first time. He rose in the air about eight feet but could go no higher and after making a considerable distance attempted to land. The vehicle dropped in a rut pitching his machine over and breaking one of the wings. Although his plane will require about two weeks at repair work, the boy is not discouraged and insists he will be flying and cutting loops as soon as he gets the engine properly tuned up.

Legion News Letter

Fargo, N. D., May 29—Jack Williams, Department Adjutant of The American Legion of North Dakota said today: "Reports are current that the puppies now being sold by American Legion posts in this state were 'Made in Germany.' These reports are untrue. The flowers that we are offering for sale to the people of this state, the flower of our organization, the flower that we wear on Memorial Day in sacred memory of our comrades who fell, are AMERICAN MADE FLOWERS."

MANY ORDERS

Fargo, N. D., May 29—Orders for poppies close to one hundred thousand have been received at State Headquarters up to the present time. The posts and auxiliaries of the Legion at North Dakota have more than heartily cooperated with the Department Headquarters in making this sale a success.

$50,000 IN GRAVES FUND

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29—Existing the cooperation of civic and patriotic organizations in various communities, members of The American Legion have made substantial progress toward raising the proposed endowment fund to provide for the annual decoration of graves of 32,000 dead in cemeteries of Europe.

Contributions received at the office of the Legion national treasury in Indianapolis, now total more than $35,000, which with the amount raised by Legion men in France raises the sum approximately to $50,000.

One of the largest donations received recently came from the people of Providence, R. I., who sent a check for $1,203.66. The sum was obtained by Providence post of the Legion with the assistance of various community organizations.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29—Wreaths will be set afloat on Memorial Day from naval vessels, passing near the place where the U. S. S. Ticonderoga was sunk by a German submarine. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt has announced in a letter to Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of The American Legion. A request was made by the Legion for this tribute to the memory of those who lost their lives when German submarines sank the ship that were to carry them to France during the World War.

Panama, C. Z., May 29—Members of the Forty-second Infantry known as the Porto Rican regiment, have formed a post of The American Legion in Panama. This is the fourth post to be organized in the Canal Zone. The new post is composed of Porto Ricans who arrived during the World War, and is located at Camp Gaillard, C. Z., where the regiment is stationed. The organization of the post is said to have resulted from the recent visit to Panama of Legion national officials.

The Tangle

LETTER FROM ALICE, HAMILTON TO HER FRIEND, BETTY STOKLEY, IN PARIS

OH MY DEAR BETTY:

I am quite in hopes that I shall be able to persuade dad and mother to let me come over and see you. Although I think you are the one of your novel you should be on this side of the Atlantic Ocean at present.

I am sure we are all sitting on a volcano that may blow up any minute. I have told this to Karl Whitney and he said, as he patted my shoulder, "Just sit tight, little girl, and don't try to cross your bridges until you get to them." Isn't he clever?

I have been learning a lot about men since Leslie got married. With what she wrote to mother, dad and me about Jack and what she doesn't write, and what I read between the lines, and what Karl Whitney tells me about himself and some of his friends, I am becoming a regular "woman of the world."

The more I see of Karl the more I can't understand why Leslie refused to marry him. He persuaded mother the other night to let me go with him to a dance at the Country Club and, although I was the youngest girl there, he never left me an instant to talk and flirt with the other women and it wasn't because he didn't have a chance, either.

But to get back to Leslie's pearls. I can't think of anything else very long, for so many peculiar situations may crop up of which Karl and I did not dream when he gave them to me to present to her.

Here is one that has already happened. Jack came near knocking down a man the other night for looking at Leslie more than Jack thought he should. Leslie felt he was looking at her pearls. Of course he was. He probably was a gem expert. Sometimes I think my plan wasn't so bright after all.

Suppose Jack had really knocked the man down; then everything would have had to have been explanations.

I'm scared to death now for fear Leslie will break the string. That would be a calamity.

I can just hear Leslie in her grand ladyship saying, as "these" thousands-dollar-appears heads roll around on the floor. "Oh, never mind, it is just a string of beads that my sister Alice gave me and it doesn't matter if you don't find them all."

And then, when she takes them to the jeweler to be re-strung! Oh my oh my!

If that thing has got to come I hope I shall be in Europe with you. Do you suppose Leslie's having these pearls could be made a cause for divorce? I asked Karl about it the other night and for a little while I think he felt quite uncomfortable.

Then what do you suppose he said? "I wish, little girl, I had given them to you instead."

I was so happy I threw my arms around his neck and kissed him at the very thought.

He got all red and queer and said: "I think, Miss Alice, it is time for little girls like you to be at home."

I expect to be over there very soon and I'll tell you all the news. Will cable as soon as the family consents to my going.

Lovingly, ALICE.

P. S.—Karl Whitney says he is going to England this summer.

FLOWING GOLD

COPYRIGHT 1934 BY BEN BRADY
DRAWN BY ALAN BRADY WITH ILLUSTRATION BY BEN BRADY, MAY 29, 1934

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray, living in Dallas at the most exclusive hotel, is the enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bell Nelson, banker. Gray falls in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. The Briskow family, friends of Gray, have gone to the mountains, where Allie, the daughter, has a tutor and a dancing master. The dancing teacher kisses Allie and, enraged by his advances, she throws the professor from a window. Mrs. Ring, the tutor, resolves to resign. The hotel manager orders the Briskow family from the hotel but Calvin Gray arrives in time to arrange for them to remain.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

"Nothing simpler. I merely showed Mr. What's-his-name that he was making an ass of himself. I've spent a fortune here; I know the owners, too. Nice chap, that manager, but he has no business running a hotel, and I so informed him." The speaker laid a finger upon his lip; his eyes were dancing. He knipped sharply at the Briskow door and cried, "Baggage ready, m'am?"

There was a stir from within, the door was slowly opened by a bent, pathetic figure of grief.

"Ma!" Gray cried, and he held out his arms.

Perhaps it was his virile personality radiating confidence, security or perhaps it was Gus Briskow, whatever the fact, Ma Briskow uttered a thin, broken wail, then walked into those open arms and had her head upon Gray's breast.

"Of course not. Gus misunderstood. The manager merely wanted you to move into a larger, finer suite, and he is positively distressed at the thought of your leaving. The poor man is dashing about collecting an armful of roses for you and Allie. He wants to come in person and apologize."

There was another sound and Gray looked up to see Allie standing in the doorway to his bedroom; with one hand she clutched the jamb, the other was pressed to her bosom; she was staring at him as at an apparition.

It was several hours later. In the parlor of the new suite, a spacious sunny room, fragrant with flowers and cheerful with brilliant crotonas, Gray and Briskow were talking. Allie and her mother could be seen in their bedrooms putting away the last of their belongings. Gray's eyes had been drawn, at frequent intervals, to the younger woman, for the change in her became increasingly amazing; the more he observed her, Gray saw the father away on some pretext. Finally, then he called to Allie: "Come in here and talk to me. I am a guest and I demand entertainment." He observed with silent approval her carriage as she entered the room and accepted the chair he offered her. Faint traces of the pester's daughter here. "I want a good chance to look at you."

"Now then, do you like Mrs. Ring?"

Allie nodded. "I like her, but—I hate her. She makes me feel awful bad because she can't understand that I ain't—I am not mad at her, but at myself. I don't hardly know how to explain it. If I was her I'd hate me, like I do."

"Would you like to have her re-marry?"

"Oh, I would! She knows everything, and she makes me learn. But she won't stay. I just found out that she's been quitting every few weeks and Pa's been raising her wages. No, the disgrace, and our being thrown out—"

"My dear girl, let me assure you, once for all, there is no suggestion of disgrace about this affair. You behaved with spirit, and those who have heard about it admire you. I have talked with a number of them and I know. I had a talk with Mrs. Ring also, and she will remain if you wish her to do so. Tell me what you go on with this afternoon."

"I dunno! Allie looked blank. "I don't do anything but study. I s'pose I got to study."

"Nothing of the sort. You have circles under your eyes now from overwork, and this is your vacation. I am a visitor, a restless visitor: I abhor being asked to make myself at home, and I never do. I demand amusement. Do you know what I'd like to do best of all?" Allie did not know. "I'd like to sit here and smoke while you show me all your pretty dresses. You're dying to show them to me, aren't you, honest?"

"Would you?"

"Run along and try them on, then I'll borrow a pair of puttees and we'll go for a ride."

For the next two hours Allegheny Briskow was in heaven. Never had she dreamed of anything like this. To have Calvin Gray alone, all to herself—Ma, as usual, had disappeared—and to discuss with him exciting questions of dress and good taste that she could not discuss with her own people; to meet his occasional hearty approval—well, it was enough to make a girl drunk with happiness. Gowns that he liked became precious; she hated those that he condemned. Her fingers grew clumsy with haste, her cheeks burned. He said she wore her clothes well, that she carried herself well. He approved of her—liked her! God above! And to think that she had contemplated suicide!

"Where is Ma?" Gray inquired, when the last gown had been paraded and when Allie appeared in her riding suit.

"Out with the fairies, I suppose. She won't tell Pa or me where she goes or what she does—says it's all foolishness."

"Perhaps she will tell me, for I believe in fairies," Gray said, self-ously.

Allie smiled at him. "I reckon she will. Folks tell you 'most anything you want them to, I reckon."

This was the busiest hour of the afternoon. Gray had purposely ordered the horses sent around at a time when he knew that the veranda, the walks and the tennis courts would be filled, for ever since his interview with the hotel manager a plan had been shaping in his mind and already he had dropped a few words, a hint or two here and there, that were calculated to stimulate interest in Allie Briskow.

It gratified his craving for the theateric now to lead the girl out before so many curious eyes. For himself, he knew that he commanded attention, and as he noted the line of this young Juno he could find nothing in her that needed betterment.

Under cover, Gray noted Allie's effect upon her attentive audience, and he smiled. If only he could spend a few days here he would make her a woman to be sought after by some of the best people.

"We've been having supper in our rooms lately," she told him, when they returned at dark. "You're going to eat with us, ain't you?"

"I am, to be sure. But not in your rooms," he declared.

"I'd rather—"

"You'd rather do exactly what would please me, now, wouldn't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then run along and put on that dinner dress that I liked best. And tell Ma to look her prettiest, too. We'll not spend this day."

It was seven-thirty when Gray, in evening clothes, appeared at the Briskow suite. Allie told herself there had never been a man so handsome, so distinguished as Godlike as he.

Allie wore an expensive black lace dress, sleeveless and sufficiently low of neck to display her charms. "Plum! A little too somber," Gray declared. "She can afford colors ornaments. Jewel! I'd like some time to see her in something Oriental, something barbaric. The next time I'm in New York I'll select a gown."

Mrs. Briskow entered at the moment, greatly flustered and extremely self-conscious, and here, certainly, was no lack of ornamentation or of color. Ma wore all her jewelry, and her dress was an elaborate creation of brilliant jade green, from one shoulder of which depended a filmy streamer of green chiffon. In her desire to gild the lily she had knotted a Roman scarf about her waist—a scarf of many colors, of red, of yellow, of purple, of blue, of orange—a very spectrum of vivid stripes, and it utterly ruined her. "Plum! A little too somber," Gray declared. "She can afford colors ornaments. Jewel! I'd like some time to see her in something Oriental, something barbaric. The next time I'm in New York I'll select a gown."

With swift impetuosity he untied the scarf and whipped it from Ma's waist. "Watch me now and you'll see I'm right." With his penknife he cut the threads that held the chiffon streamer in place and, and we see an adorable motherly person, richly but unostentatiously dressed. "Don't you agree with me?"

Without pausing for an answer, he wheeled upon the daughter. Around Allie's hips he flung the scarf, drew it snug and smooth, then knotted it. Next he snatched the length of chiffon and bound it about her head. His touch was deft and certain; a moment and it had been fashioned to suit him.

This proved to be an evening when people really did turn their heads as the Briskows were shown to their table for dinner. Allie's fall was an embarrassment for the family. They were looking at Calvin Gray, and in the shining glory of his presence she knew that she and her parents were invisible.

It was the sort of situation in which Gray appeared to best advantage, so he talked incessantly during the meal, and in a key that kept his companions unconscious of their surroundings. On their way out they passed the entrance to the ball room and paused to look in. The beat of the music swayed Allie unconsciously; then, before she knew it, Gray's arm was around her waist and he was guiding her out upon the floor.

About midnight Calvin Gray strolled outdoors for a breath of fresh air before retiring. He glowed with the consciousness of a worthy deed well done. He had come to the Notch expecting to spend one night, but events of the last few hours had induced him to change his plans, and now he made up his mind to stay several days.

A THOUGHT

Go to now, ye that say, Today or tomorrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain; whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. —James 4:13, 14.

Heaven makes sport of human affairs, and the present hour-glance, no sure promise of the next. —Gladstone

BOARDMAN TO PLAY BASEBALL IN BISMARCK

Well Known Pitcher Signs Contract With Bismarck Club; Leaves with Team

FIELDER ALSO SIGNED

Charley Boardman, who has hurled many a hard game against Bismarck, will wear a local uniform on the baseball diamond this year. Boardman was signed up to play for the Bismarck team in the North Dakota State League this year. He will pitch and play in the field, probably alternating in left-field with another pitcher. Boardman is expected to be valuable to the club as a pitcher as well as a fielder, and incidentally he always has been a drawing card in North Dakota.

Al Bernier, pitcher and outfielder, who was signed a few days ago, is expected to report at Jamestown today, where the Bismarck club opens the Jamestown home season at 6 p. m. Bernier is known both as a good pitcher and a good hitter, and was with the champion Mitchell club in the South Dakota league in 1921. Under the salary limit and playing rules it is necessary to play one or two men who can pitch in the field. Eleven men can be carried. Some of the clubs will use one pitcher in the field, and carry 11 men. Others will carry only 10 men, put two pitchers in the field, and thus be able to pay higher salaries to some of the other players. Minot has been alternating pitchers in right field.

Randall Signed
Manager Tom Shanley also has signed Newt Randall of Hibbing for the local club. Randall is an old-timer. He was with Milwaukee in the American Association for years and also with the Boston Nationals and Chicago Cubs. Randall is expected to be valuable for his hitting, base-running and general knowledge of baseball. He ought to hit upwards of 400 in the North Dakota State League. He can play any one of several positions, but is likely to be used in right field.

The local club has been angling with the St. Paul American Association team for a young catcher who was a sensation in Class D baseball last year, and was bought by St. Paul, and is now used as a string catcher. The St. Paul club doesn't seem to want to let him go.

The Bismarck club stays at Jamestown until Sunday night, and some big crowds are expected there, with the opening day, Memorial Day and Sunday crowd.

It is possible that one or two other players may join Bismarck at Jamestown today. By the time the Bismarck club returns here in 10 days the fans will see a greatly strengthened team. The local management is determined to have Bismarck up in the running in the league.

Dempsey - Gibbons Automobile Road Map

NO FERRIES TO CROSS ON NATIONAL PARKS HIGHWAY

The National Parks Highway, known as the Red Trail, between Chicago and Tacoma, Wash., will be used by motorists on their trip to the Dempsey-Gibbons battle at Shelby, Mont., July 4th. This trail is in excellent condition throughout its length. It is the only trail through the Northwest where rivers are bridged. The $2,000,000 bridge between Bismarck and Mandan, N. Dak., was the last one to be erected and was opened for use last September. The road between St. Paul and Shelby, Mont., passes through a level country, dotted with progressive cities and towns with excellent hotel and garage facilities and well equipped with tourist camps provided for those who desire that service.

Jim Jeffries Thinks Gibbons Has Good Chance For He's Small and Fast

BY JACK JUNGMEYER, NEA Service Writer.

Burbank, Calif., May 29.—"If Dempsey isn't the best condition possible on July 4 there's a good chance that Gibbons will whip him. He'll know he's been in a fight, anyway!"

Jim Jeffries, who has been making statements without preliminary sparring when I had tracked him down in his alfalfa field at the Burbank ranch to get his comment on the Shelby battle. He had just finished a workout with irrigation pipes and a lot of rocks that needed picking.

"I'm judging Gibbons' caliber wholly from what I've been told about the boy. You understand, I've never seen him in action. Never saw Dempsey in the ring, either, for that matter. But I'm not in any way belittling Jack when I say that Gibbons will give him a fight."

"Tommy is fast and clever. He has two hands. He can take 'em and give 'em. I know of no one else who can stand up to Dempsey."

"It'll be a far better fight, I'm sure, than the Dempsey-Carpenter scrap. As I repeat, Dempsey will be to defend his title."

"Jack has toppled over the big ones because they were slow. He fights pretty open. Tommy Gibbons is just the kind of boy to take advantage of that. And from what I hear, he's got the punch that'll do the business if he gets the chance. This Shelby fight is no sure thing."

Jeffries stepped into another round with the rocks, flinging them into a wagon. Then he lounged against the wheel, the breeze whipping a towel in his sweaty face, flinging the jumper from his hirsute chest. I marked the gray at his temples, and his leisurely movements, but behind these tokens there was still a hint of residence and preserved power of the fighting boilermaker who turned farmer.

"FARMER" JEFFRIES

"I don't see many promising youngsters coming up in the game," he reflected, cewing an oat straw and feigning into an answer of my question as to other likely contenders against Dempsey.

"Folks are getting flabby. The country is losing its physical stamina. Everybody, kids and men, looking for a soft job. Growing up soft. Unable to stand the punch. Soft in body and soft in the head. As a boy I never liked to fight, but at 14 I could lick big men. I worked for my muscle and stamina."

"Lately I looked into the old shop where I used to work. The boss told me that for all the machinery and labor-saving devices, the output of the factory wasn't what it was in the old days when men reared into their jobs with iron muscles. That's it—everyone wanting to save labor, afraid to sweat, getting flabby. And the fighting game is beginning to show it."

It's hard to fight Jeff's thoughts focused on fighting. Amid his alfalfa and roses, he's become a philosopher. From Dempsey and Gibbons, Willard and Firpo, under the spell of his recent Biblical and historical research, the big fellow lingers earnestly back to Paul, Moses and Pilate, citing the Bible much more than the Marquis of Queensberry.

From the house came the gong of the dinner bell. It brought him back sharply from the Pyramids to Shelby.

"Yes, it'll be a fight—and I expect to be there."

WHEAT STAND IS HELD GOOD IN NORTHWEST

Weekly Crop Report of Commission House Shows Color, Stand Satisfactory

WEATHER FAVORABLE

The weekly crop report of Van Dusen-Harrington Co., Minneapolis, as of May 23, follows:

The earlier part of the past week showed a continuance, quite generally throughout the Northwest, of the cold and unseasonable weather which has become such a factor this Spring. This condition, however, should not be considered unfavorable to small grain, since while it undoubtedly checks the growth of the plant, it strengthens the root system and favors storing.

Some localities have mentioned a little frost damage to flax, but this does not appear to be serious at any point but the warmer weather of the last few days is showing satisfactory results in all districts.

All wheat is now in the ground and seeding of coarse grain is rapidly approaching completion. Seeding of flax is general in all four states. In Southern Minnesota and South Dakota farmers will finish planting corn within a few days, and corn districts in North Dakota advise good progress being made.

We continue to receive generally favorable reports as to stand and color of wheat, oats and barley. Early sown grain is well up, except in some of the most Northern Counties.

Winter rye is spotted. Northern and Central districts show some very good areas, but some of the acreage will be re-seeded to flax and barley because of winter killing and the injury resulting from the dry weather of last fall. Southern districts report condition as from fair to poor.

Sufficient moisture for the present is indicated, with a few exceptions, throughout the entire territory. An abundance of warm growing weather, with the proper rain, will very soon tend to neutralize the fact that the season is somewhat later than usual.

From our present information, we still feel unable to make an intelligent statement as to the reduction in this year's wheat acreage. Different reports covering the same districts vary to such a degree, that while there is undoubtedly a decrease, we hesitate to attempt an estimate as to its extent. The same situation exists in connection with a very definite increase in flax and coarse grain acreage.

Selfridge, N. For a time, the county board, and Selfridge are in the same school district, perhaps the largest in North Dakota. New Orleans, May 29.—Clara Phillips, fugitive hammer murderer, arrived here at 1:15 p. m., completing the first lap of her journey from Honduras to Los Angeles. She was standing on the deck surrounded by deputy sheriffs and her sister as the steamship Copan docked.

She was clad in a brown dress and brown hat. She was not handcuffed. A crowd collected at the dock to obtain a glimpse of the woman who was convicted of beating Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer and later made a sensational flight from the Los Angeles jail to Central America.

BOARDMAN TO PLAY BASEBALL
IN BISMARCK

Well Known Pitcher Signs
Contract With Bismarck
Club; Leaves with Team

FIELDER ALSO SIGNED

Charles Boardman, who has hurled many a hard game against Bismarck, will wear a local uniform on the baseball diamond this year. Boardman was signed up to play for the Bismarck team in the North Dakota State League this year. He will pitch and play in the field, probably alternating in left-field with another pitcher. Boardman is expected to be valuable to the club as a pitcher as well as a fielder, and incidentally, he always has been a drawing card in the South Dakota league in 1922.

Al Bernier, pitcher and outfielder, who was signed a few days ago, is expected to report at Jamestown today, where the Bismarck club opens the Jamestown home season at 6 p. m. Bernier is known both as a good pitcher and a good hitter, and was with the champion Mitchell club in the South Dakota league in 1921.

Under the salary limit and playing rules it is necessary to play one or two men who can pitch in the field. Eleven men can be earned. Some of the clubs will use one pitcher in the field, and carry 11 men. Others will carry only 10 men, put two pitchers in the field, and thus be able to pay higher salaries to some of the other players. Minot has been alternating pitchers in right field.

Manager Tom Shanley also has signed Newt Randall of Hibbing for the local club. Randall is an old-timer. He was with Milwaukee in the American Association for years and also with the Boston National and Chicago Cubs. Randall is expected to be valuable for his hitting, base-running and general knowledge of the game. He can play any one of several positions, but is likely to be used in right field.

The local club has been angling with the St. Paul American Association to put a young catcher who was a sensation in Class D baseball last year and was bought by St. Paul, and is now used as a string catcher. The St. Paul club doesn't seem to want to let him go.

The Bismarck club stays at Jamestown until Sunday night, and some big crowds are expected there, with the opening day, Memorial Day and Sunday crowds.

It is possible that one or two other players may join Bismarck at Jamestown today. By the time the Bismarck club returns here in 10 days the fans will see a greatly strengthened team. The local management is determined to have Bismarck up in the running in the league.

The National Parks Highway, known as the Red Trail, between Chicago and Tacoma, Wash., will be used by motorists on their trip to the Dempsey-Gibbons battle at Shelby, Mont., July 4th.

This trail is in excellent condition throughout its length. It is the only trail through the Northwest where rivers are bridged. The $2,000,000 bridge between Bismarck and Mandan, N. Dak., was the last

KILLS MOTHER ATTEMPTS TO SLAY SISTER

Family Troubles Lead South Dakota Woman to Commit Murder

Mitchell, S. D., May 29.—Mrs. Martha Carter, 38 years old, shot and killed her mother, Mrs. Lena Buzzell, 65 years old, as she sat at the breakfast table in her home here today, and then fired two shots at her sister, Cora. The sister was wounded in the shoulder. Mrs. Carter, who was arrested, told the police the shooting was the result of frequent family quarrels. Mrs. Carter has been separated from her husband for sometime and made her home with her mother. According to the story which police told of the shooting tension developed at the breakfast table this morning and Mrs. Buzzell told her daughter she would have to leave, telling her she was tired of the constant bickering. Angry words followed, according to the police, and Mrs. Carter went to her room, procured a pistol and returning to the dining room opened fire on her sister, who ran screaming from the room with a bullet in her shoulder. A second shot at the fleeing woman missed.

SEE HOPE FOR RELEASE OF 14 FOREIGNERS

Chinese Officials Show More Activity in Attempting to Gain Release

Peking, May 29.—Dispatches from Tsoochang today strengthened the impression of an improved atmosphere in the negotiations for the release of the 14 foreigners held in the bandit stronghold in the mountains. Chinese officials evidently are making a more sincere effort to placate the bandits and the bandits have been quick to acknowledge this. After parleys with the bandits, asking that the country pledge property as a guarantee that an agreement would be observed, the deputy of Tsoochang of Shantung province sent in counter-proposals which received prompt attention. When the bandits secretary reached the relief camp at Tsoochang the deputy reassured them regarding their safety and emphasized that it was not a question of loss of faith. "I have lost a lot of faith," said

STATE'S HELP IS ASKED TO FINANCE TRIAL

Prosecution of Higginbotham Will Fail Unless Help Is Given, He Says

Tallahassee, Fla., May 29.—The senate today passed, 77 to 0, a measure to appropriate $3,500 for the general contingency fund to be used by the state in the prosecution of Walter Higginbotham, charged with the murder of Martin Tabert of North Dakota. The measure now goes to the house. A similar measure appropriating $2,500 was voted down by the house several days ago. States Attorney J. H. Kelly, who came here yesterday in behalf of the appropriation, said in a statement that unless some provision was made whereby the state would bear the heavy expense incurred in the trial the state stood a fair way to lose its case. Dixie county, in which Tabert died, has not sufficient money in its "fine and forfeiture" fund to pay the cost, he said, and the fact that the case had been transferred to Columbia county does not alter the condition as it still is Dixie county's bill.

HEAVY LOSS FROM FLOODS

One Man Loses Life in Rescue Work in Oklahoma

Oklahoma City, Okla. May 29.—With damage from the overflow of the North Canadian river already running into hundreds of thousands of dollars the crisis was expected to be reached in Oklahoma City today in the flood situation. A two-foot rise reported upstream yesterday was expected today. Hundreds of stores and houses in the southern bottoms of the city have been flooded or washed away. More than 1,000 are homeless. One life has been lost. An unidentified man gave his life in rescue work last night. Garbed in a bathing suit the man swam to a flooded house to make sure that all the occupants had escaped. He was last seen by a policeman as he was caught in the current and drawn beneath the walls of a building.

the official, "So have you and so has China." What the deputy told the bandits in conference that followed was evidently satisfactory since the bandits decided not to return immediately to their stronghold but to remain overnight, leaving yesterday to report back to their chieftains.

EVIDENCE IS TURNED OVER FOR ACTION

Criminal Prosecutions May Follow as Result of Vets Bureau Probe

Washington, May 29.—Some of the evidence gathered in the senate committee investigation of the Veterans Bureau has been turned over to the Department of Justice for possible criminal action against persons involved. The charges so far laid before the Attorney-General relate to alleged fraud in connection with dental work in various hospitals, but it was indicated today that the justice department might be asked within a few days to take action also against certain persons connected with the purchase of hospital sites and other property by the bureau.

CORDIAL FRIENDLY BANKING SERVICE

In Memoriam

Debts of gratitude too often are paid with forgetfulness. Those to whom we owe them too frequently are rewarded only with oblivion.

In the enjoyment of our well-being, and of the liberty and opportunity which are the heritage of Americans, it is well that we should pause for a day and recall those who gained and preserved these rights for us.

That is the reason for Memorial Day—a day, given in Memoriam to the heroes of other days to whom we owe so much.

Pause, on this day at least, in grateful remembrance of our benefactors.
